Director's Note

As the new Head Director of Lewisville Theatre, I knew coming in for my first show, I wanted to choose something that would allow all of my students to be involved and experience a story of loss and love, healing and hurt, and the importance of community. And that is exactly what this show is. I feel honored to be a part of Anatomy of Gray from this side of the theatre. My sophomore year at Waxahachie High School, I landed my very first role in a show, which happened to be June in Anatomy of Gray. This show is so easy to fall in love with and when I met my students and experienced the talent that they brought to the table, I knew that this show would be perfect for them. It has been such a treat to share this experience with them and watch them fall in love with the story just like I did when I was a part of it. I'm sure that you can find yourself in these characters and their stories. We hope that you take away from this show the beauty of the simple things in life. We hope that you fall in love with this little town of Gray, Indiana just as much as we have. We hope that you sit back, relax, and enjoy the sweet tale of Jim Leonard's; Anatomy of Gray.

Kaiden Maines,
 Head Director
